

Make a REAL difference in our Chesapeake Bay Watershed

Legacy Institute For the Environment

WHY PARTICIPATE?

To learn and join like-minded adults to create a legacy of protecting the environment for future generations.

WHO CAN PARTICIPATE?

Maryland residents (age 18+) interested in learning more about the environment and desiring to volunteer time and talent at the Chesapeake Bay Environmental Center (CBEC) toward environmental education, research, restoration, and stewardship.

HOW ARE PARTICIPANTS TAUGHT?

Participants attend fascinating education sessions—both classroom and outdoors—guided by expert scientists, environmental educators, and professional consultants.

Each class features presentations and not-too-strenuous hands-on activities.

Topics include:

- Natural history of the Chesapeake Bay Region and human impact
- Health of the Bay
- Fish, crabs, oysters, other bay life
- Birds and waterfowl
- Plants, insects, pollinators
- Animal life at CBEC and the Bay
